

The best content to watch with kids is on HBO Max!

HBO Max offers quality content that can be shared with the entire family: movies, series, documentaries, reality shows and animated productions. With contributions from the greatest talents in the world, the platform presents a wide variety of genres and formats designed especially for the youngest of audiences. What is available for the children in the family includes classic children's TV shows and well-known brands such as Looney Tunes, Hanna-Barbera and Cartoon Network, where they can experience the best cartoons and the riveting stories they tell. Enjoying time together as a family and sharing moments of laughter and fun together is a one-of-a-kind experience. The selection of content that can be watched can be determined simply by what the kids like, by the time of the day that they choose to sit down and enjoy what's on or by searching for titles that will teach them something or bring them a moral lesson. The important thing is that everyone is entertained and enjoys themselves, not only while the show is on, but also during the moments before and after, generating expectation and conversation about the content.
