SPACE JAM: A NEW ERA, available on HBO Max this august 20

DEL CINE A TU CASA: SPACE JAM: A NEW ERA is part of Warner Bros. films available at no additional cost 35 days after their theatrical release in Latin America.This Friday, August 20, basketball and Looney Tunes fans can enjoy the adventures of LeBron James and the Tune Squad in SPACE JAM: A NEW ERA from their homes on HBO Max at no additional cost.This production is packed with action, new adventures and a revamped Tune Squad lineup, 25 years after the release of the first SPACE JAM. World-renowned basketball player and icon LeBron James joins this epic and entertaining adventure, sharing the lineup with Bugs Bunny and his friends. LeBron and his son Dom become trapped in a digital space created by an artificial intelligence; LeBron must get them back home - safe and sound - while guiding Bugs, Lola Bunny and the entire Looney Tunes gang to victory over the AI's digitized champions on the court. This playing field will feature an all-star powerhouse roster of professional basketball stars, the likes of which have never been seen before. The Tunes take on the Goons in the biggest challenge of their lives, redefining LeBron's bond with his son and showcasing the power of being yourself. The Tunes, ready for action, shatter convention, empower their unique talents and surprise even "King" James by playing the game their way.SPACE JAM: A NEW ERA was directed by Malcolm Lee and stars LeBron James, Don Cheadle, Khris Davis, Sonequa Martin-Green and Cedric Joe. The first installment starring Michael Jordan SPACE JAM is also available on HBO Max.

