HBO marks its presence at San Diego Comic Con: get in the mood!

Get ready for San Diego Comic Con with the following content now available

HBO Max

MIAMI, FL. July 18, 2022 — From Thursday to Sunday, July 21-24, HBO Max will be at San Diego Comic Con with activations, panels and unmissable experiences related to platform titles such as House of the Dragon and Harley Quinn. In partnership with Cartoon Network, content such as Gremlins: Secrets of the Mogwai, Looney Tunes and Sesame Street are highlighted.

To get in the mood for the event, you can check out the productions already available on the platform and get ready for upcoming HBO Max premieres, which will be presented at the event:

GAME OF THRONES

Series based on the books by George R. R. Martin, A Song of Ice and Fire, which tells the saga of seven noble families fighting for control of the mythical land of Westeros, divided after a war. In a setting reminiscent of medieval Europe, kings, queens, knights and renegades use all means in the name of power. One of HBO's highest-rated productions, GAME OF THRONES has garnered numerous awards and recognitions, including 58 Emmys® and 5 Screen Actors Guild Awards®.

HARLEY QUINN - seasons 1 and 2

In the series, Harley Quinn, originally Harleen Frances Quinzel, ended her relationship with the famous clown Joker. Now, she's trying to make it out on her own as Gotham City's criminal Queenpin. The production also features Poison Ivy and another cast of heroes and villains carrying out great adventures in Batman's city.

SUICIDE SQUAD

Entering Belle Reve prison, which has the highest mortality rate in the United States and which houses the worst supervillains, we find the Suicide Squad, one of the most dangerous teams in comic book history. Determined to do whatever it takes to get out of there, including forming a secret team to do jobs no one else is willing to do, we follow some of history's greatest anti-heroes on their adventures as they try to get along as a team. SPACE JAM: A NEW LEGACYThis action-packed production follows a new Tune Squad, 25 years after the release of the first SPACE JAM. World-renowned basketball player and global icon LeBron James joins this epic and fun-filled journey, sharing the roster with Bugs Bunny and his friends. LeBron and his son Dom are trapped in a digital space created by an artificial intelligence; LeBron must get them home safe and sound as he guides Bugs Bunny, Lola and the other Looney Tunes characters to victory over the digitized AI champions on the court. The film features an all-new cast of professional basketball stars.

LOONEY TUNES: BACK IN ACTION

Every man for himself! The fate of humanity rests in the hands of Bugs Bunny and Daffy Duck. They've teamed up to create hilarious mayhem in this family adventure that combines cartoons with real actors like Brendan Fraser, Jenna Elfman, Steve

HBO marks its presence at San Diego Comic Con: get in the mood!

Martin and many more. Join these characters as they try to find the “Blue Monkey” diamond in order to prevent the ACME Corporation from taking over the world.

